

FREE INTERNET SAFETY PRESENTATION

In a continued effort to stamp out bullying in our school, we are offering a free parent information evening dealing with internet safety. The evening will be held on Tuesday 2nd June in the Princeton Room at Bond University and will run from 6:00 – 7:30pm. The presentation will be a positive way to initiate discussion surrounding the use of the internet in your home and will assist parents in developing personal strategies to deal with cyber bullying behaviour. The Varsity College Parents and Citizens Association is sponsoring the evening in support of the community's parent body.

The presentation will be hosted by Brett Lee, not the cricketer, but the managing director of INESS (Internet Education and Safety Services). Brett has worked as a Queensland Police Officer for 22 years, 16 of those as a Detective in the field of Child Exploitation. He is a specialist in undercover internet crime and has personally been involved in the online investigation, arrest and prosecution of numerous offenders whose medium for preying on children is the internet.

Information for parents will include;

- where your children are going online
- what your children are doing online
- methods and techniques used by internet predators
- indicators that your children may be at risk
- protective and preventative measures

If you wish to attend this parent presentation, please sign the tear off slip below indicating how many seats you wish to reserve and return it to school with your child as soon as possible. This evening is open to all parents of the Varsity College community but numbers are limited to 400 so don't miss out on your chance to listen to one of Australia's leading internet education experts. This information session is for parents only as student presentations will occur during the day for appropriate year levels. Unfortunately, we are unable to provide child minding during the evening.

Yours faithfully
